Chris,
you're one tough girl who has really been thru hell but if it was worth it then it will all turn out for the best. I'm really glad that we are finally getting along. Cause if you can remember we were not even

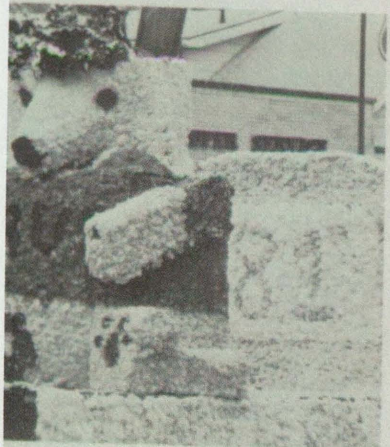
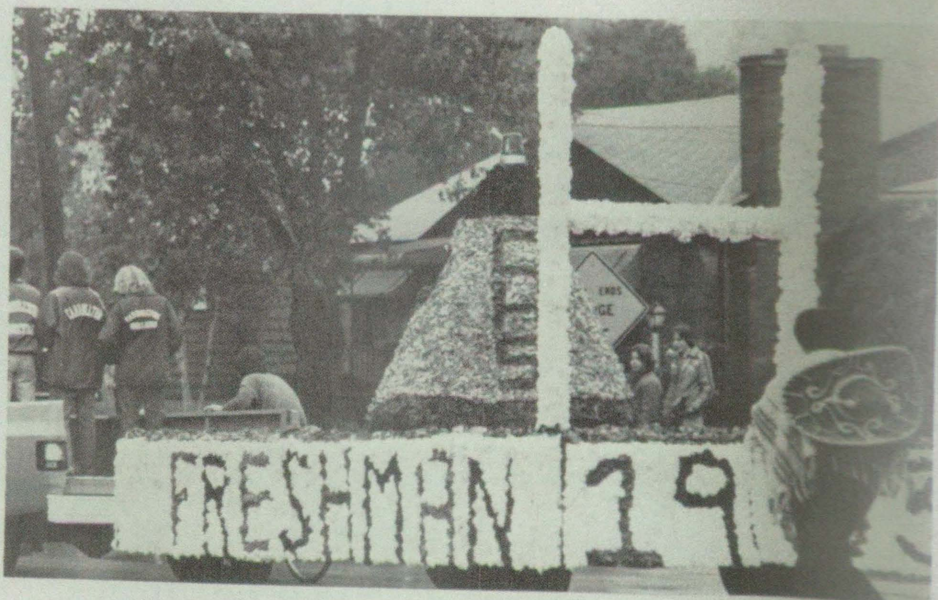
Homecoming 1979 Was Filled With Pure Imagination

Homecoming 1979, October 15-20. Remember wondering who was going to be King and Queen? Remember the eating contest and Piggyback basketball? The floats that just barely were finished in time for the parade; we spent almost all night getting them ready and it rains for the parade.

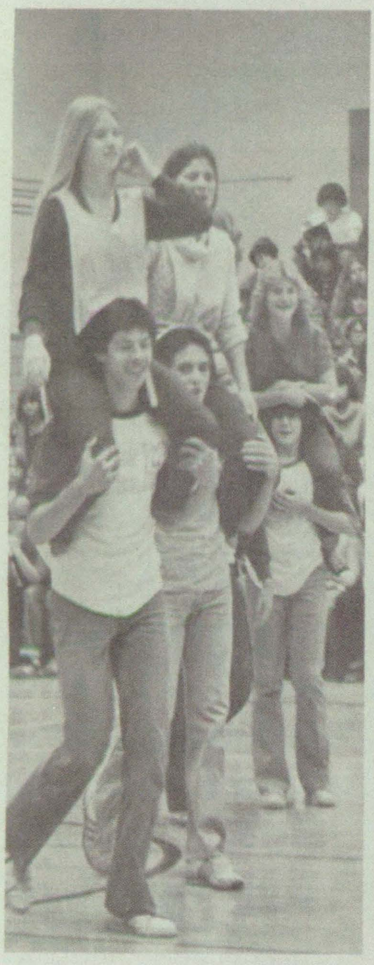
Upper left: "These new football uniforms just don't make it." Above: "Well then, where IS the student parking lot?" Left: "Have I got a secret for you!"

Clockwise: Pure Imagination was the key to the seniors first place. The wild & crazy class of '83 took second place in the competition. The juniors presented the bear facts. We tried but couldn't pull it off for the second year.

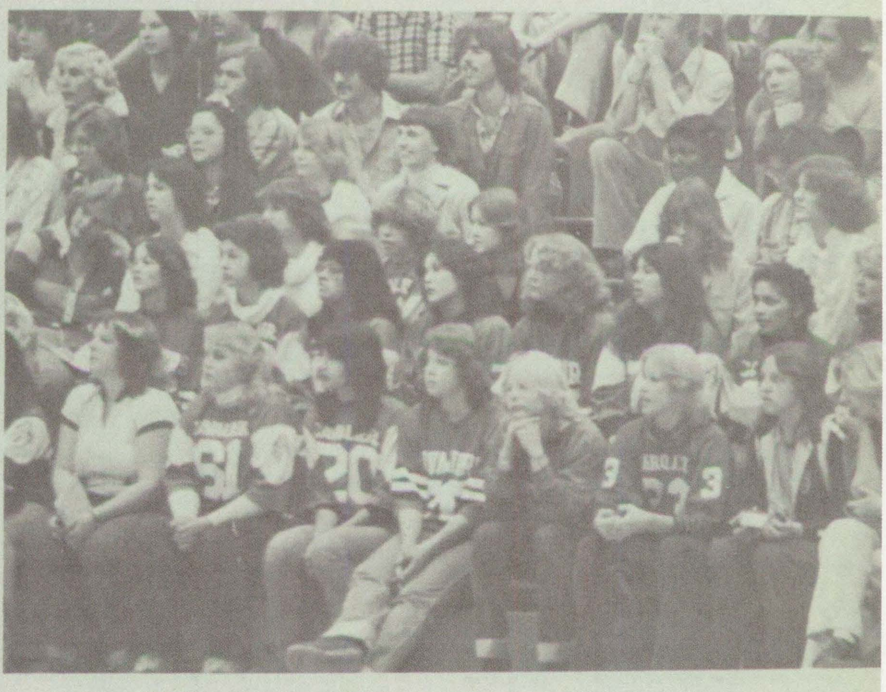




CHS Shows Off Its Spirit



The week long celebration included the Tug-O-War where it seems some of us put more effort than studying for the final exams at the end of the year. For those of us who put something into the week, we got back twice the memories.



Upper left: "Hold on Lisa. We're goin' for it."
Lower left: Those sophs just couldn't get their weight into it.

ffort — Hard Work Pays Off — Just Look!

pper right: Now that's what I call sup-
ort. Above: The CHS Marching Band ads the annual Homecoming Parade.
ight: Spanish club shows their Home-ming spirit.

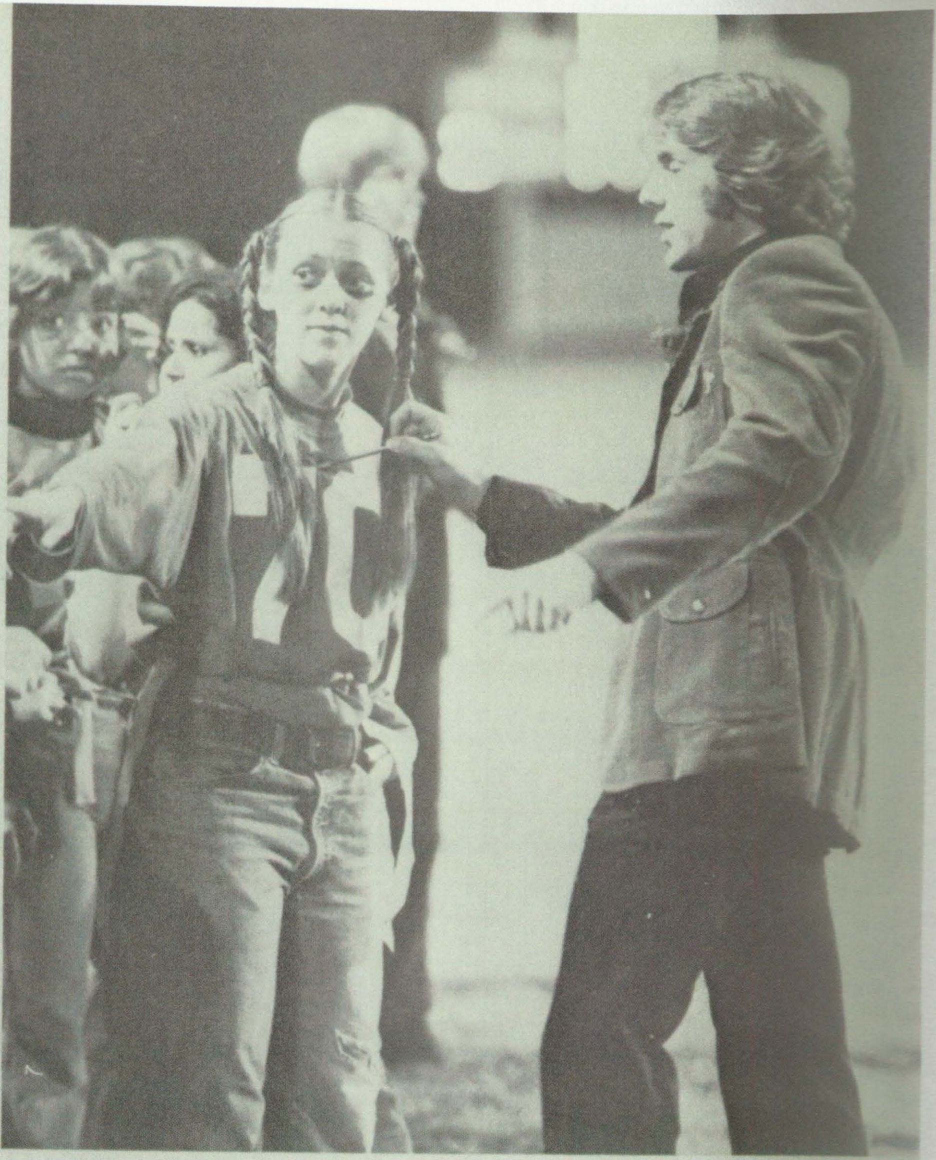
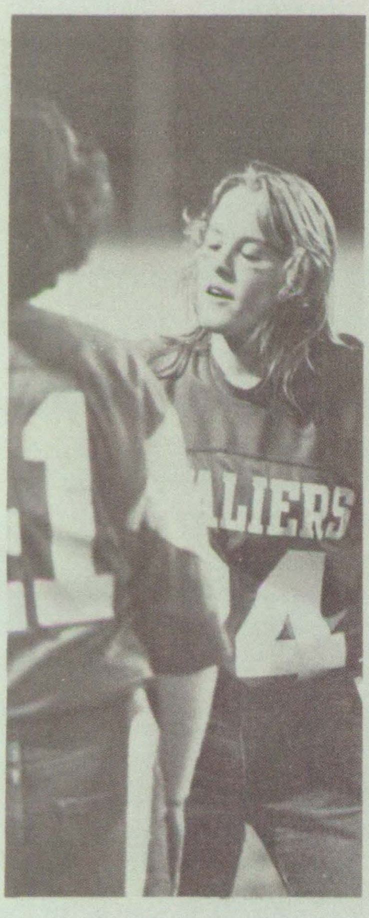
Upper left: "What do you mean 'Now whistle'?"
Upper right: "Hey, does anyone have a blow dryer?"
Left: you just can't stop those seniors.
Above: Bob Emeott dubs King Steve.

Clockwise: "No excuses, I'm the coach."
Oh wow! You've to be kidding.
Seniors take a breather as they watch
the crowing of the King.
You never told me they'd hit back.



Would You Believe These Are Our Ladies?



Left: "It's my turn. You said I could try. I'll tell . . ."
Bottom: "UUUGGGGHHHHH"
Below: Who needs air conditioning on a night like this?

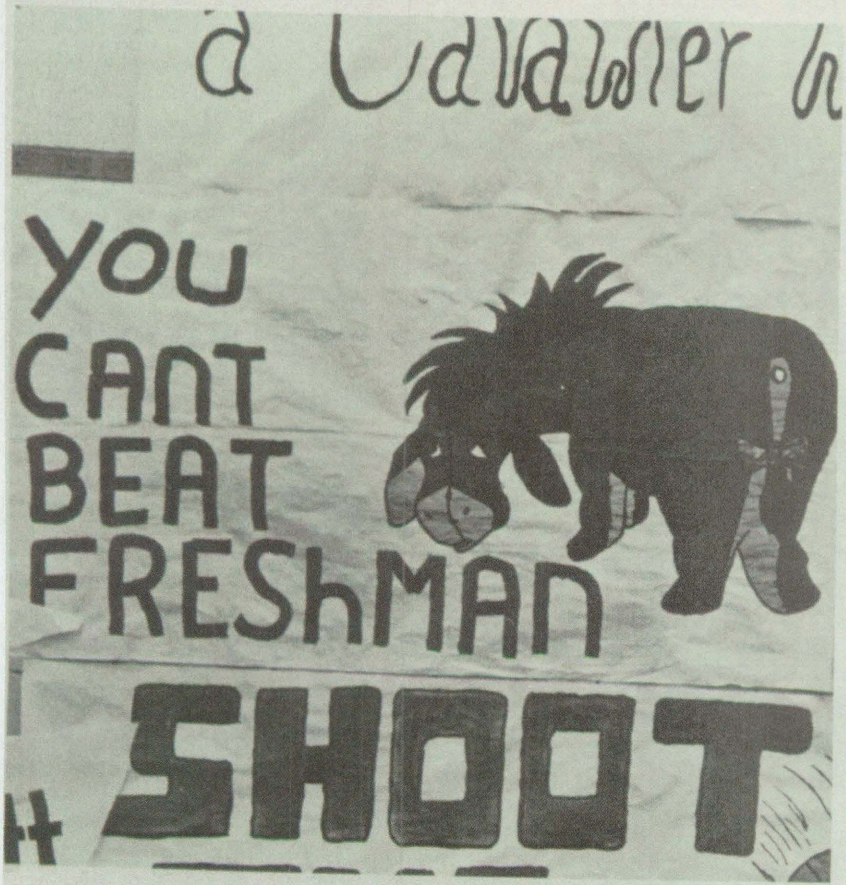
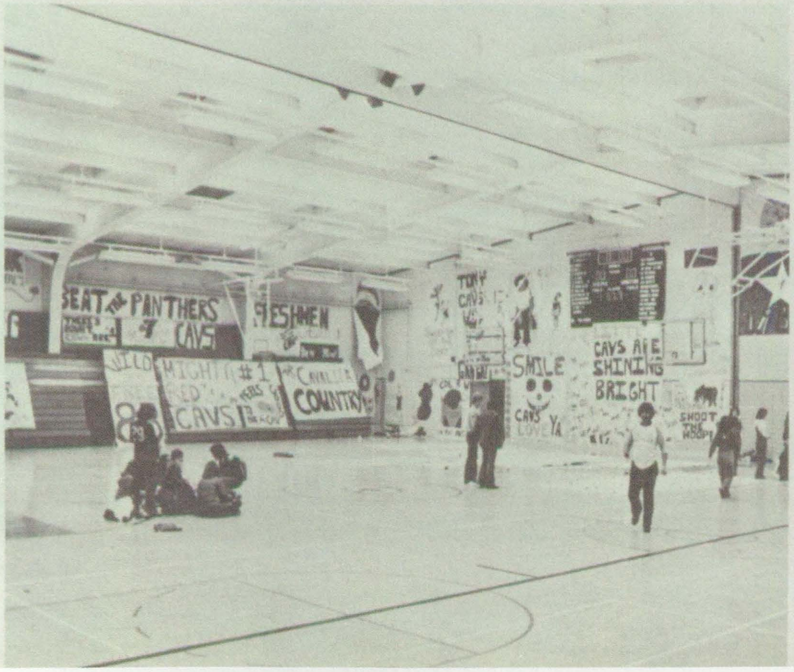
Pep Week 1980 — Operation Spirit

At an elevation of nearly 30 feet, a few of the seniors hang it up. Below, the freshmen get their message across.



Western Day primered at CHS during Pep Week and seniors Lori Gnatkowski, Debbie Goodwin, Sharon Sawyers and Eileen Haight take Horace Greeley's advice.

Kelley Berkobien finds that at 10 o'clock, the halls at CHS are really quiet. Below, Coneheads invade the Cavalier Pep Rally.



At left, a look towards the Frosh side of the gym reveals some fancy paint work by the novice artists.

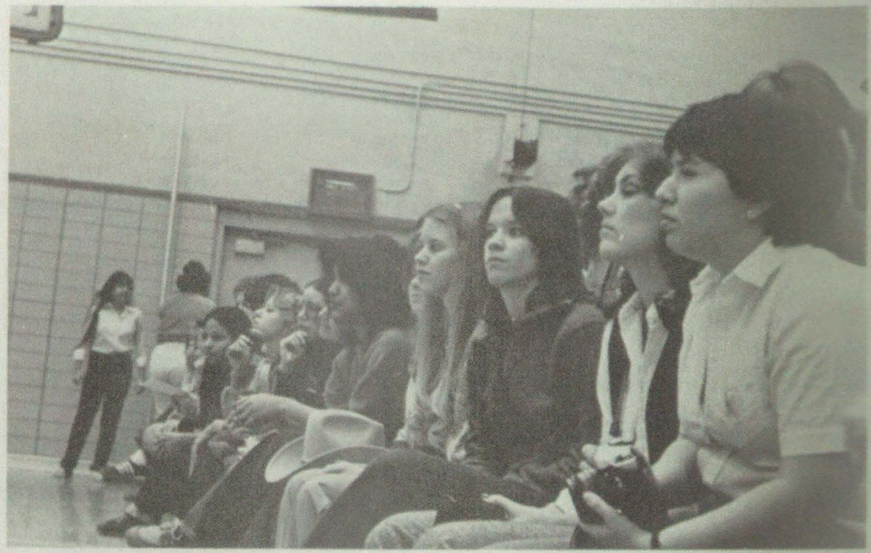
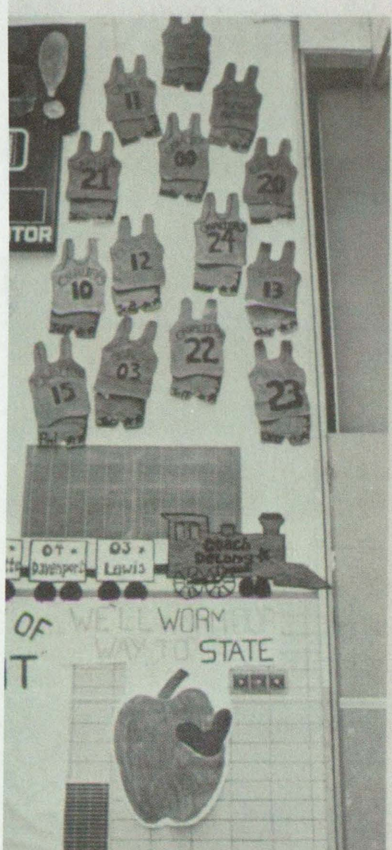
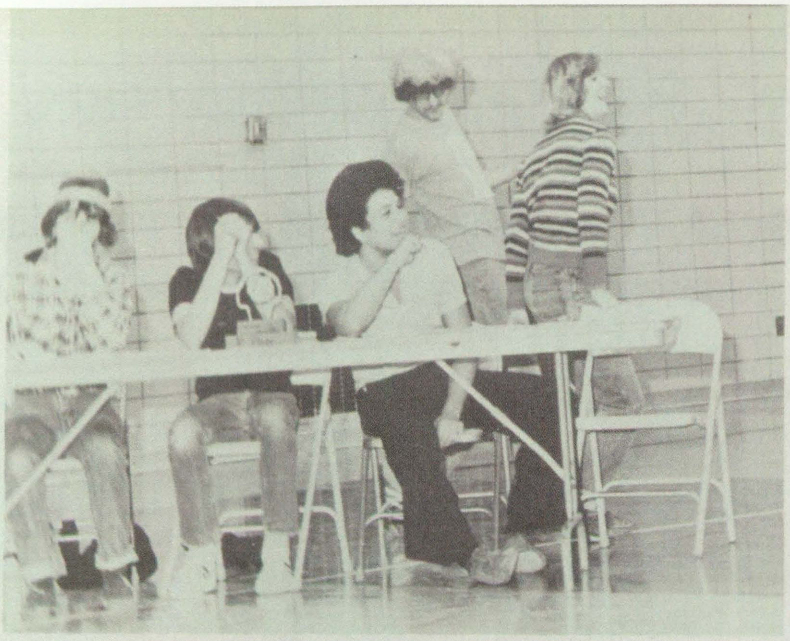
Pep Week has been a tradition at CHS for many years. It is an opportunity for each student to get involved in some way if he/she wants to. Some watch, right. Some work, lower right. But it all seems to get done somehow, bottom. Hundreds of hours of planning go into the week by the students council and the class members themselves getting it all together.

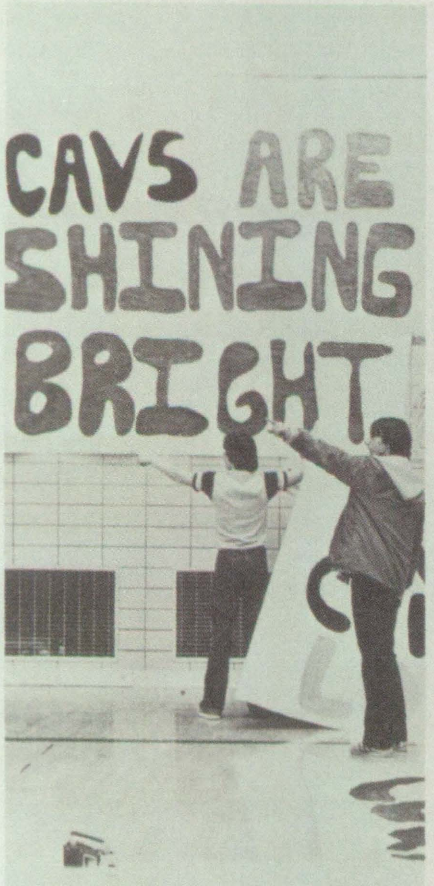






The GONG SHOW returned with a variety of acts ranging from rock and roll to the return of the SHORT PEOPLE. Apparently the judges, left, were amused — at least up to the GONG!

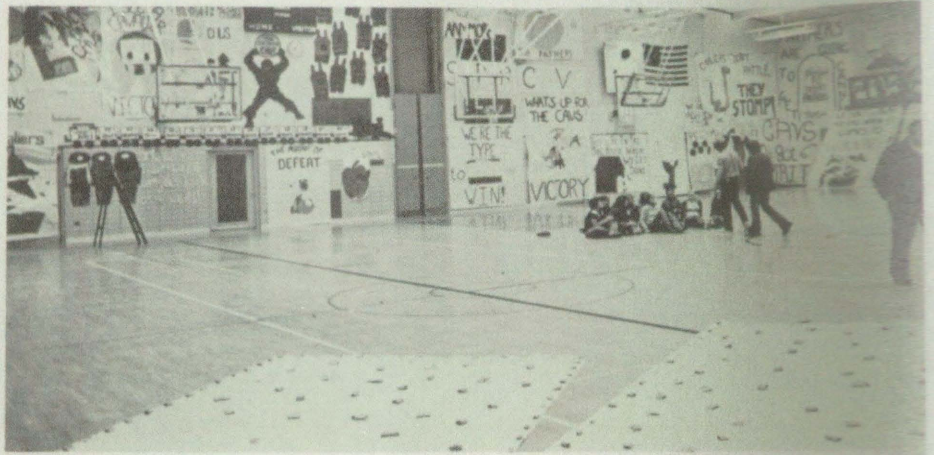
And We Tried Everything



The Cavalier gym has over 6000 square feet of wall space and CHS students seem to cover it all. Above left, some one spots an empty spot over there and another sign finds a home.

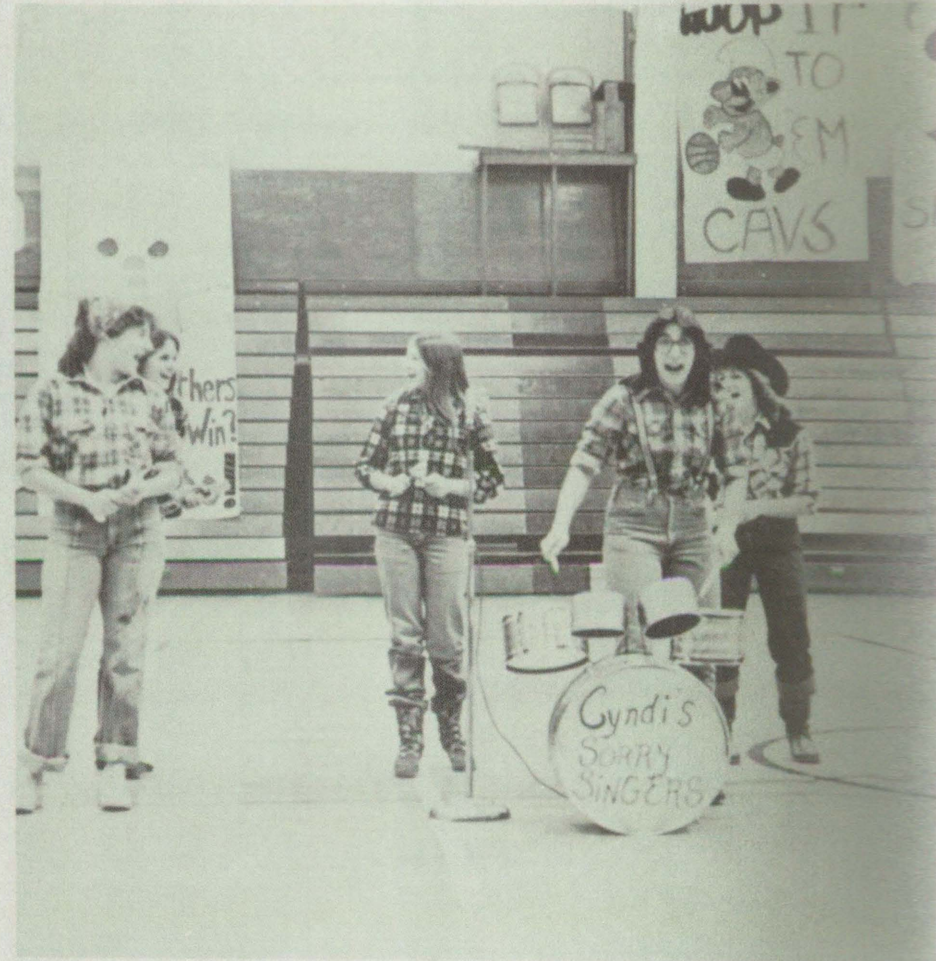
The seniors, above, are just beginning to hang their signs when the freshmen are probably getting ready for bed.

And It Worked! Cavalier Spirit Covered



The Cavalier gym came alive with crea-ures from storybooks, television and heaters. The signs were part of the an-ual sign hanging competition between lasses.

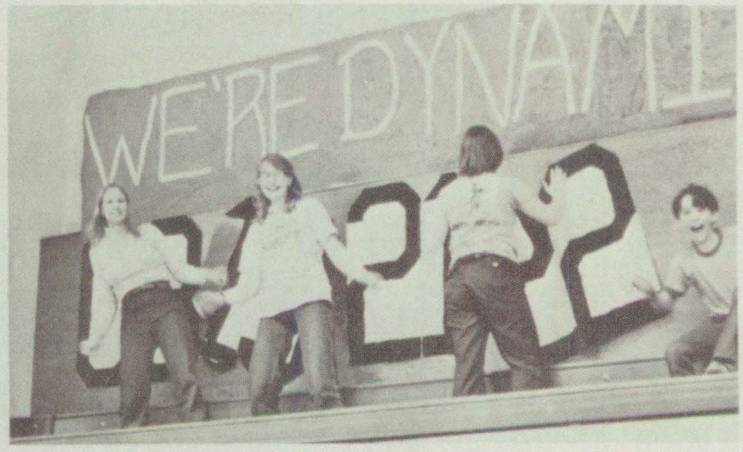
3elow, one of the junior signs is being prepared for hanging.

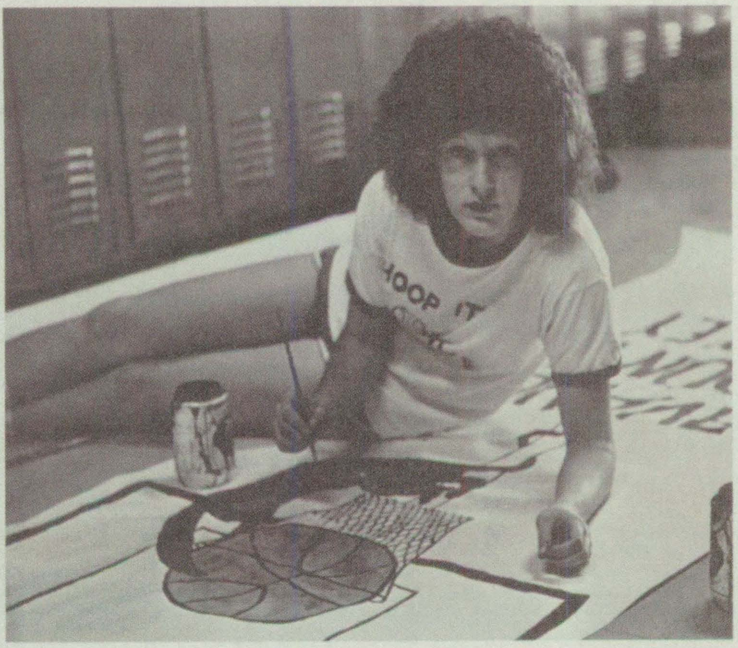


If you look carefully on these pages, you'll notice the CHS people do just about anything to build a little spirit.

The JV cheerleaders or otherwise known as CYNDI'S SORRY SINGERS, drum up a little something at the Pep assembly the day of the big game against the unfortunate Panthers of Birch Run.

The Walls — Cavalier Points Covered The Scoreboard!





It's not as easy as you might imagine, upper left, to get all the signs in just the right place. On top, a few loyal Cavs ham it up instead of hang it up. It takes over a hundred signs, gallons of paint and an unbelieveable amount of time to prepare the gym for the big game. Doesn't it, Kathy?

The freshmen get their first taste of Pep Week at CHS and did very well in the overall competitions during the five day long celebration.

CHS' thinclads had high hopes for the last season in the Northern 'B' Conference but ran against some tough competition placing second in the finale at Essexville Garber in 30 mile per hour winds and temperatures in the low 40's.

Success At State Meets Highlight Track Season

Thinclads Close NBC Competition After 10 Years

The lady Cavaliers, despite a few injuries, came through some sparkling performances and even managed a couple of All Staters on their squad as Laura Collison placed second in the shot put. Lori Gnatkowski finished sixth in the 220 low hurdles and eighth in the 110 hurdles to pick up the honor.

(Missing) Krys Meurminger, Pam Berkobien, Lynn Feriend

Sharing the pitching chores with Sharon Sawyers was Laura Collison. Here Laura prepares to deliver against conference rival Essexville Garber.

Lori Gnatkowski spent most of her defensive chores at shortstop.

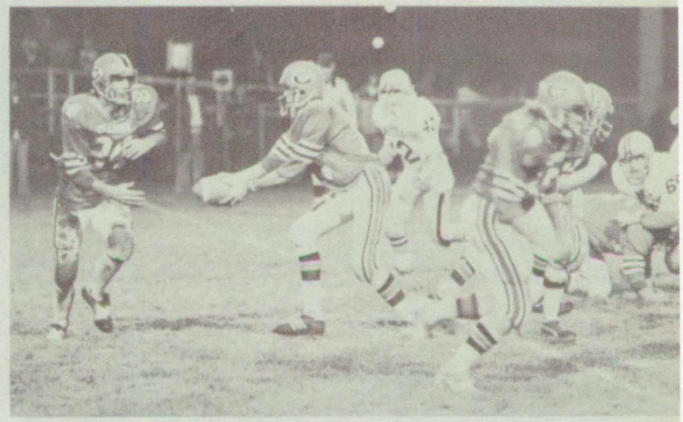
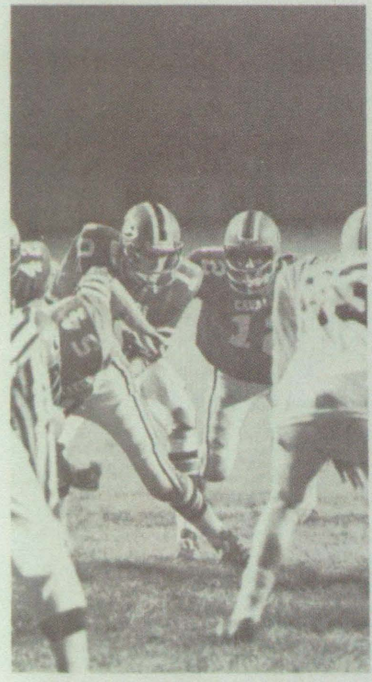
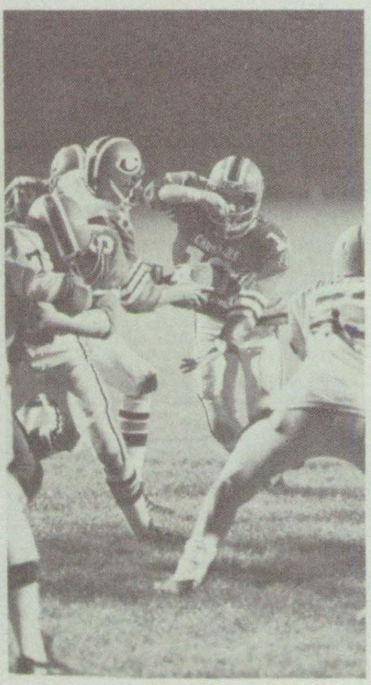
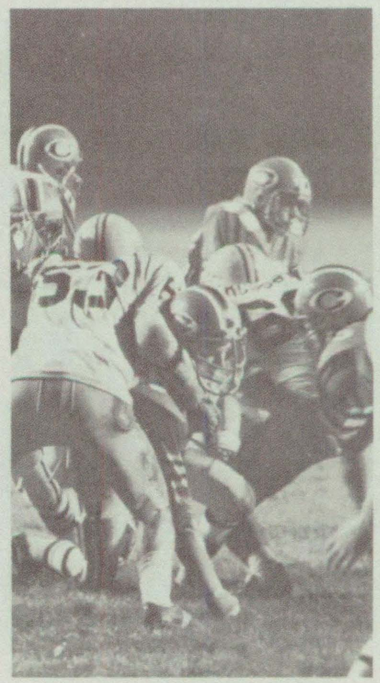
CHS finished its football season with a respectable 6-3 record overall and 4-3 in conference play. The losses came against three tough class 'B' schools, Essexville Garber, Frankenmuth and Swan Valley, all by a combined total of 11 points.









Top: Mike Vondette (20) and Tony Lamia (32) were key defensive players in the Cavalier record setting team.

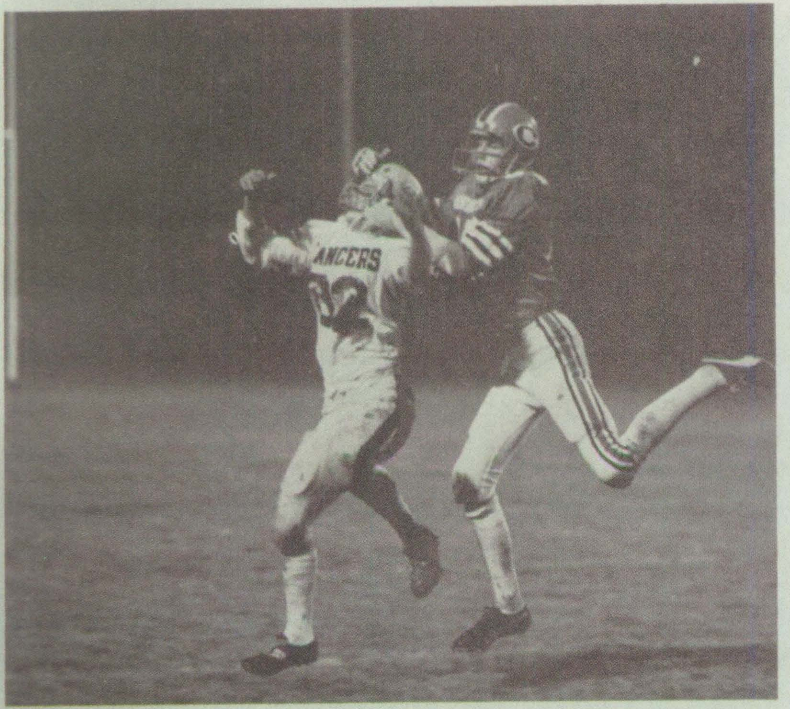
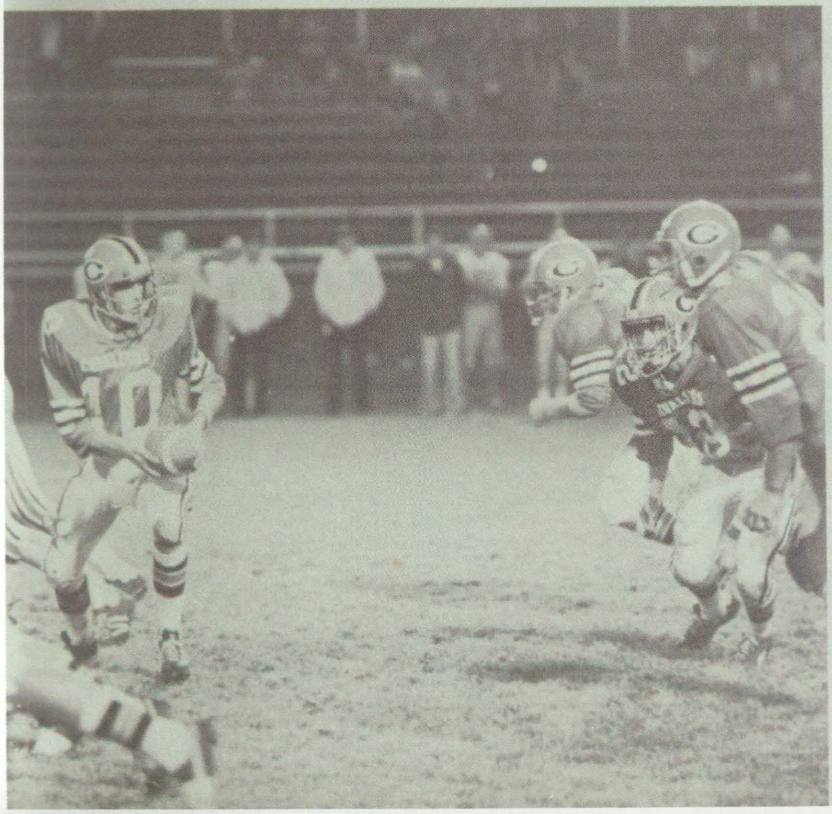
'uality Football — Cavalier Style

Right: Coach Tom Karac took over for Joe Ettiene and took the Cavs into some tough competition in the Tri-Valley League. Karac came to CHS after assisting at Arthur Hill for the past few years.
Below: Chip DeGrace quarterbacked the offense and helped out in the defensive back field.
Bottom: The offensive rushing game belted out well over 1500 yards in a very effective ground attack.





Inexperience plagued the Cavalier Cross country team this year as the Cavaliers opened the season in the new Tri-Valley Conference. Mike Blazewski led the team all season winning nearly all the team matches and placing third in the conference match at SVSC. Mike also qualified for the state meet placing in the top 15 runners.

Cavalier Golfers Shoot Their Way Into The State Championships

The Carrollton golf team finished in the top fifteen teams at their regional to gain a berth in the Michigan State golf championships. This was truely a highlight of the season since it has been nearly a year since any Cavalier team has qualified for a state championship.

Chris,
I ~~felt that~~ we are just about as good of friends as any two people could be. of course I constantly flirt with you because you know in a way that I'll always like you. Maybe some day during the summer we could get together and reminisce of our old romances. You were the only girl ~~that~~ I saw when I was going with my mistake (take it as you will)

To tell you the truth I wished & still wish that we could still have our romantic love affairs Well maybe Stay fine as hell
and watch yourself
Love Always Bonny Pat
if you ever need anything let me know and how I'll get it or do it for you.

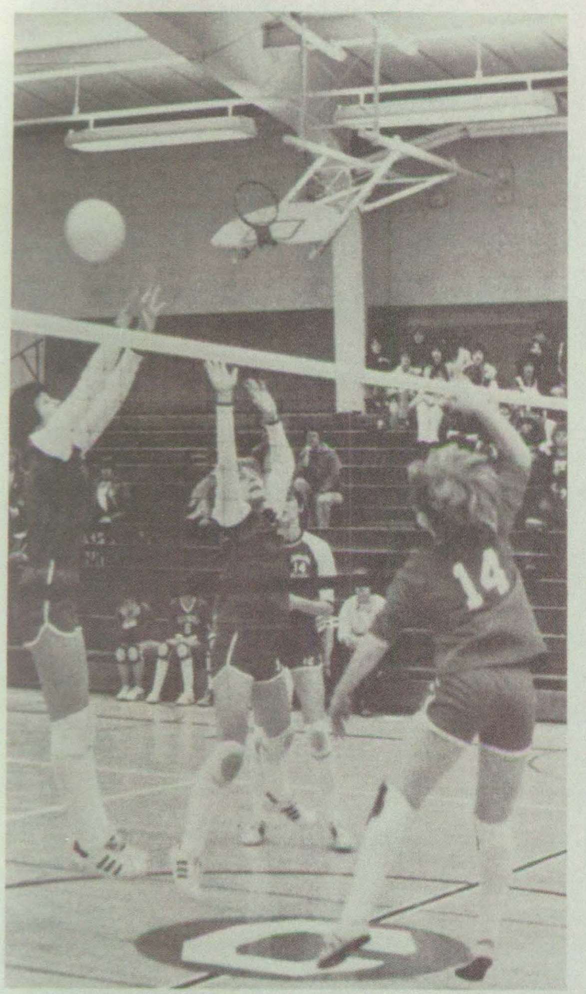
RIGHT: Lori bumps to set up a possible spike.
BELOW: Sharon saves an opponents shot.



The varsity volleyball team experienced a rough season in the TVC finishing in the middle of the leagues standings for the first year of competition in the newly formed conference. The squad was very young with mostly sophomores and freshman making up the group. Only two members, senior Sharon Sawyers and junior Michelle Fisher, returned from last year's squad to provide the leadership.

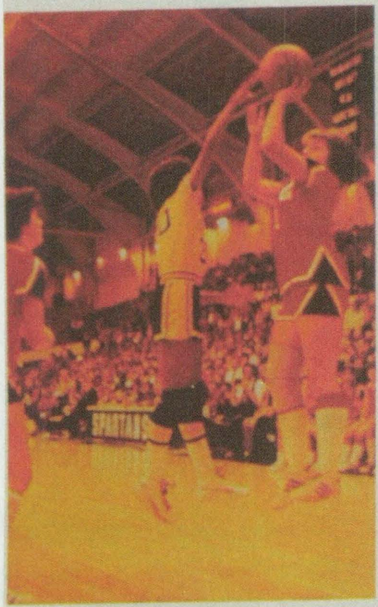
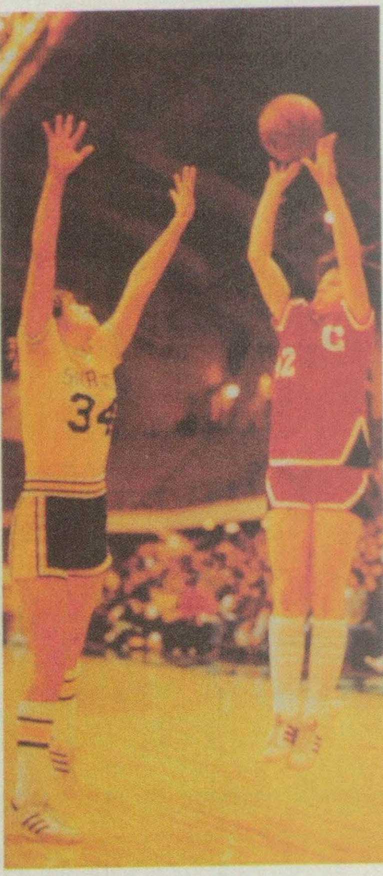
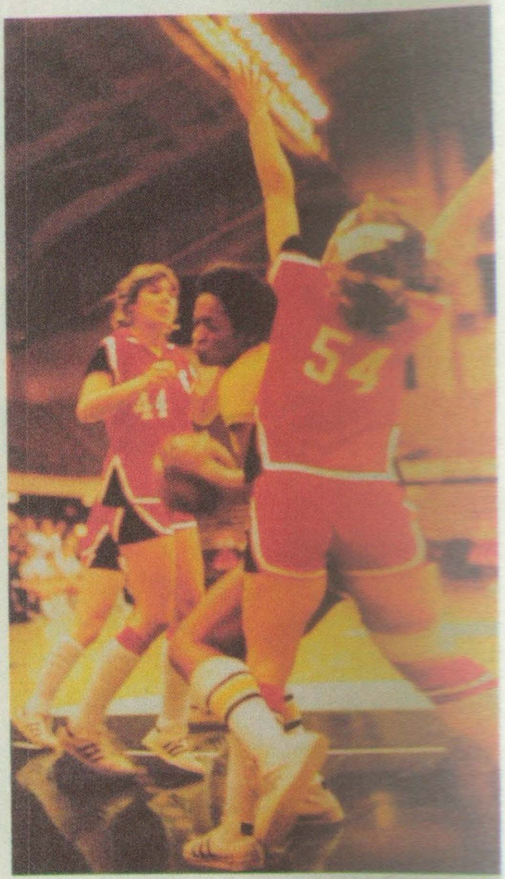
ABOVE: Action at the net and in the back court are common as the sport of volleyball improves each year.

Hardwork, Dedication And Desire Turned

Senior Debbie Goodwin led the team in rebounds with ten and Kelley Berkobien contributed some outstanding defense work to help hold down the Royal Oak Shrine offense. Below Lori Gnatkowski drives for two of her 13 points past Shrine's Rachelle Bostic.







Above, Sharon Sawyers collects two over the outstretched arms of a Shrine player. Sharon netted 15 points to lead the Cavalier offense and right, teammate Laura Collison pops in a couple more.

bove, outstanding freshman Vonnie Thompson and Kelley Maturen contribute to he Cavalier success after being called up from the JV squad when starter Laura Collison was sidelined with a knee injury. Below, Sharon Sawyers demonstrates the uperb defense which held opponents to only 32 points per contest while the offense nanaged a 75 points score over 28 games. The Hustlin' Lady Cavs compiled a season ecord of 28-0, captured the first Tri-Valley League championship and finished with he state championship.

Left, Junior Laura Collison was one of the main stays of the Cavalier team effort but was lost at mid-season because of a knee injury. Laura came back during the Regionals and steadily regained her form through the State Final game at MSU. Above, Kelley Berkobien earned Best Defensive Player award as well as being one of the co-Most Valuable Players.

Hustlin' Lady Cavs Capture It All

Hot Feet Cavaliers Go 28-0, End Season At MSU's Jennison Field House With A 50-31 Victory Over Royal Oak Shrine

)n Friday, December 14, 1979, the Lady Cavs traveled to East .ansing to compete in the Michigan State Basketball Cham- ionships. In the semi-final contest that night the Cavs faced reviously undefeated Addison who came into the contest with 3 straight victories.

The Cavaliers disposed of the Panthers by a 62-35 margin. The victory earned the Cavs a spot in the State Final game on the following night. They would have to face Royal Oak Shrine who easily dropped Lincoln-Alcona to advance to MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse.

'he Cavalier basketball team provided its fans with some very exciting moments on its way to a very successful season. One such ime was the school's first slam dunk by Jeff Somerfield pictured above shooting over a Millington opponent.

Senior Steve Woodrow showed consistent stats throughout the season to help provide leadership and direction and also a few points.

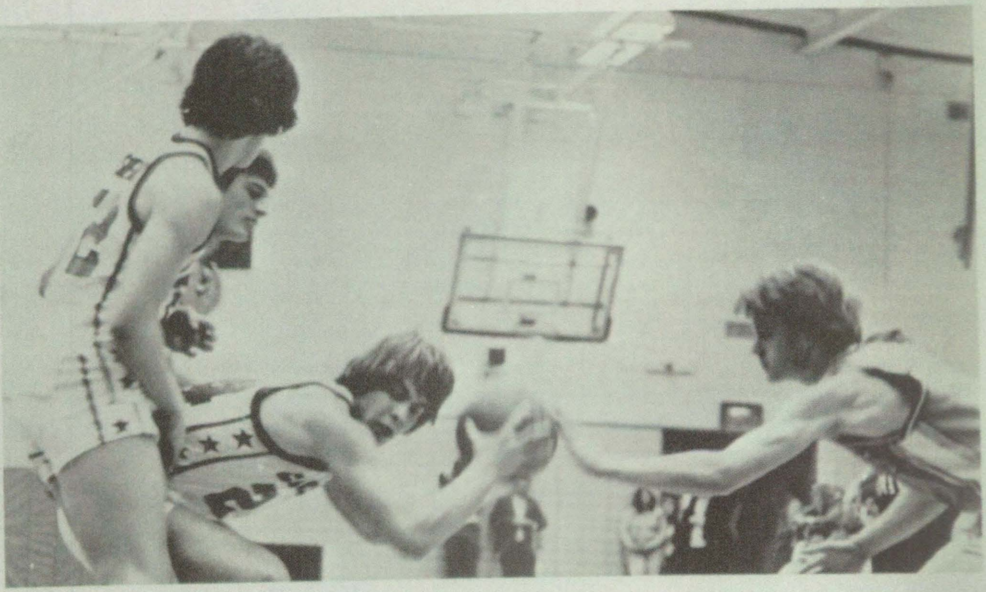
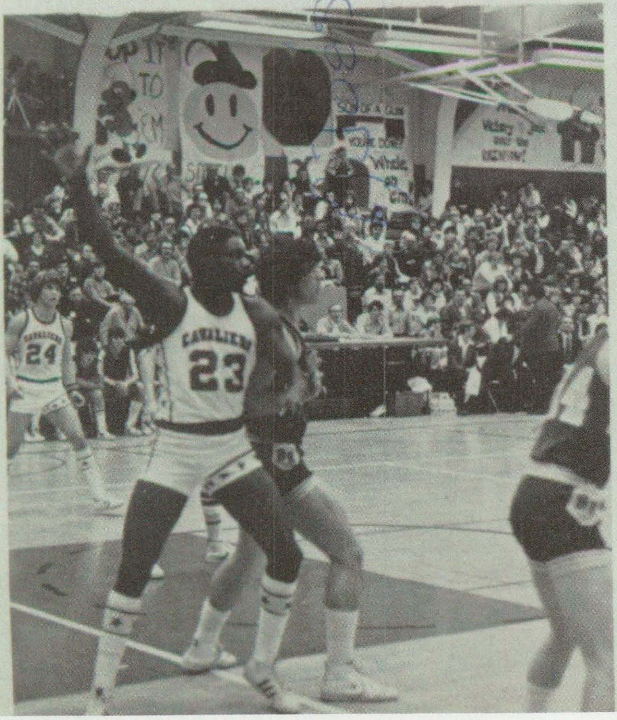
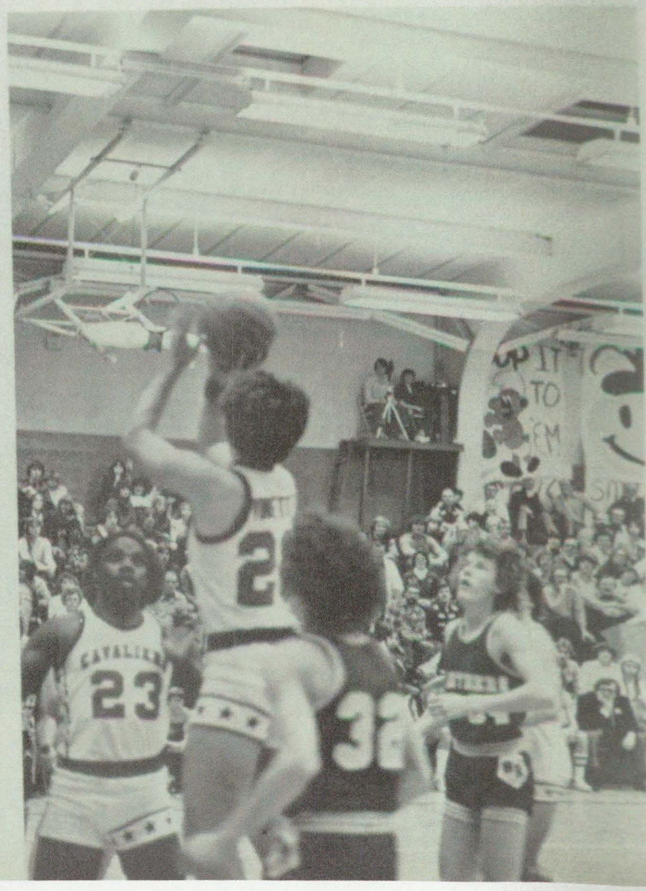
avs Capture A Tri-Valley Crown — Move On To District Championship

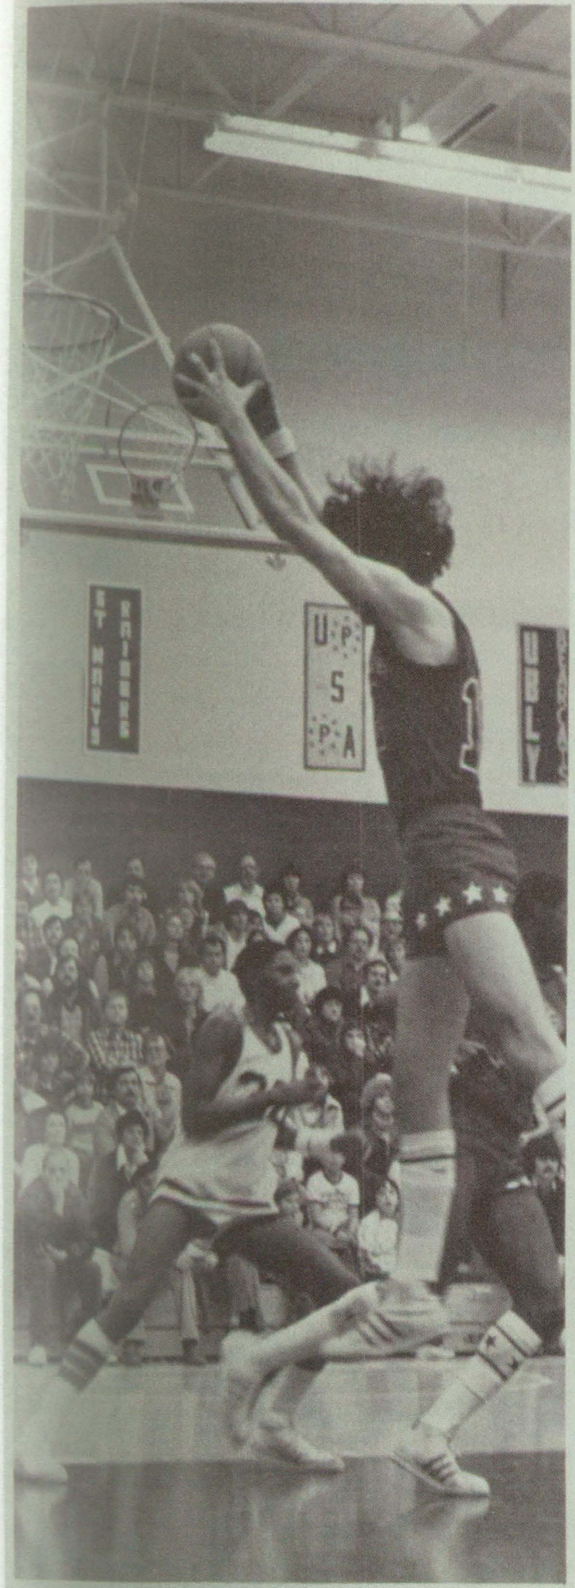


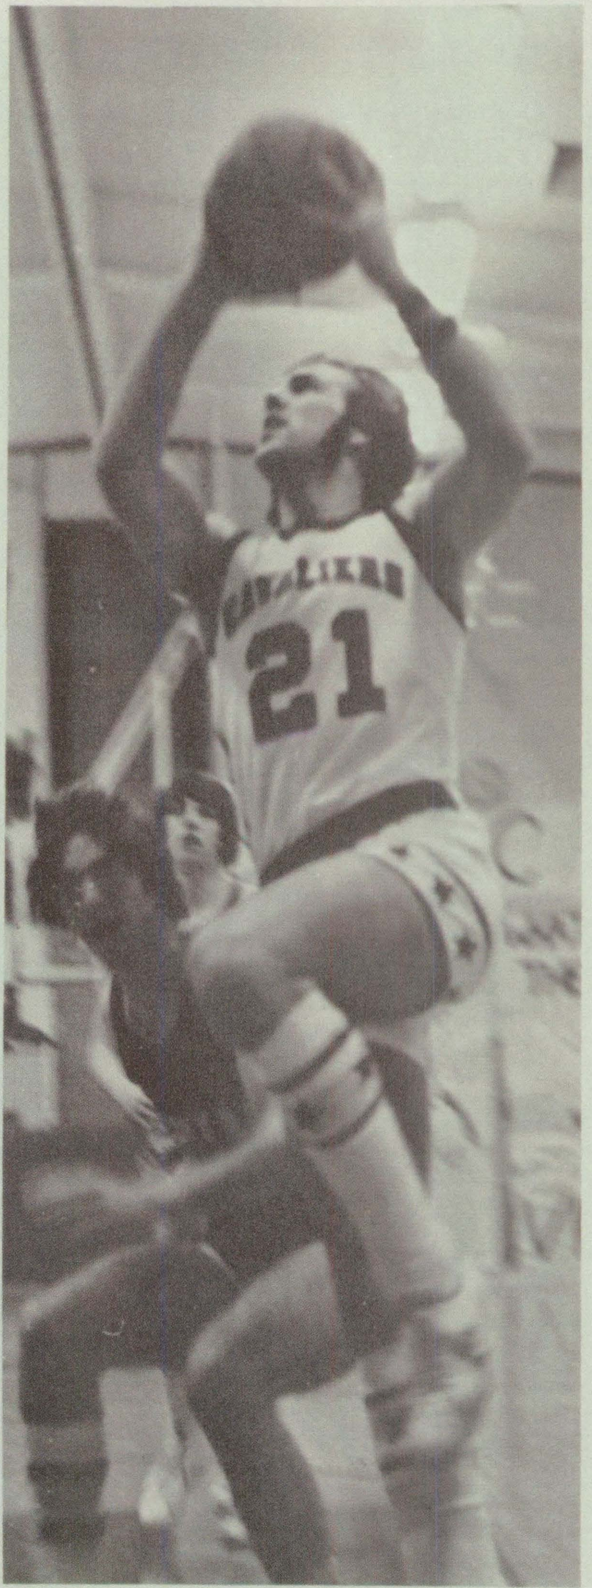
Dave Hurst came on during the later stages of the season to add some heavy duty scoring to the already potent Cavalier offense.

Junior Larry Smith, below, used his strength to help the Cavs control the glass throughout the season. Mike Vondette drops in two as point guard on the CHS team.

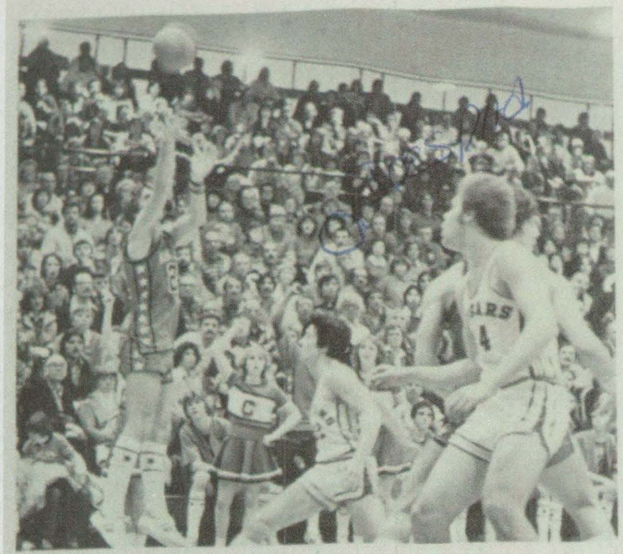




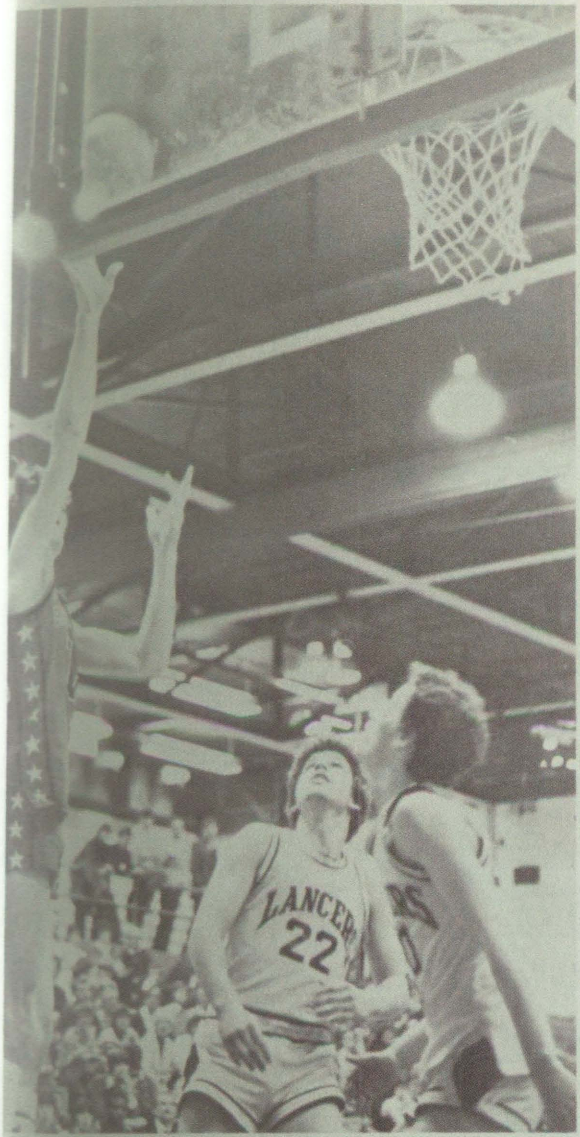




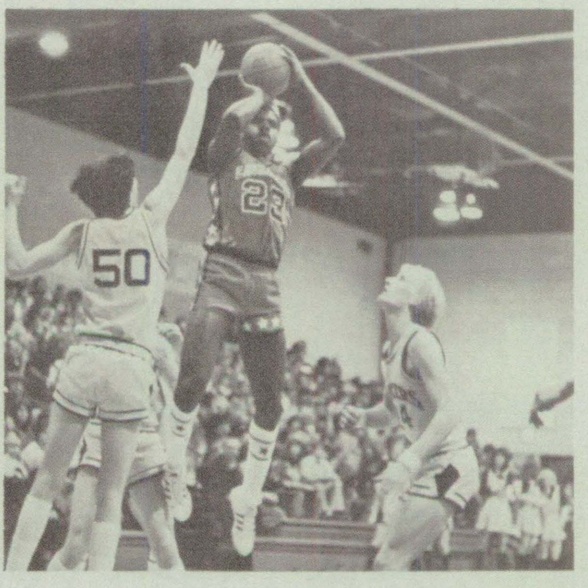
Scott Dobis pulls down one of his many rebounds of the 1979-80 campaign. Scott and senior team mate Jeff Somerfield dominated rebound country over most competition. Senior wing Steve Woodrow proved to be a threat to score from anywhere on the floor in piling up some impressive stats.

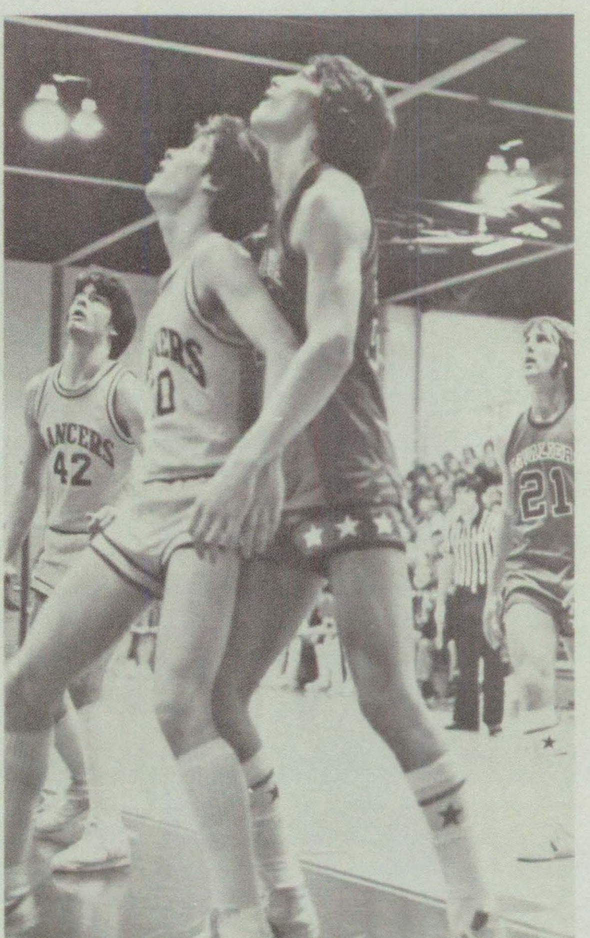


In the regional semifinal matchup with Lansing Catholic Central, The Cavs ran into some unique strategy in that CC shot and prayed the leather into the hoop. It worked and the Cavs dropped a last second, 47-45 decision to the Catholic team.
Above, Steve Woodrow poops in two from the corner. Upper right sees junior Jeff Beonsch getting in some action in the Birch Run game. In the same game, Mike O'Neil (00) right, drives to the basket.
Dave Hurst, lower right, goes up and over a Bullock Creek Lancer. Hurst came on in the season to show a deadly eye from the floor much to the regret of the opposition.



This was a very familiar sight to opposing defensive players. Scott Dobis, left, skies for two.





Larry Smith will be depended on heavily next year as the Cavs will be losing four starters from this years outstanding squad. One of the sorely missed seniors will be Jeff Somerfield. Jeff is the best big man ever to play at CHS.

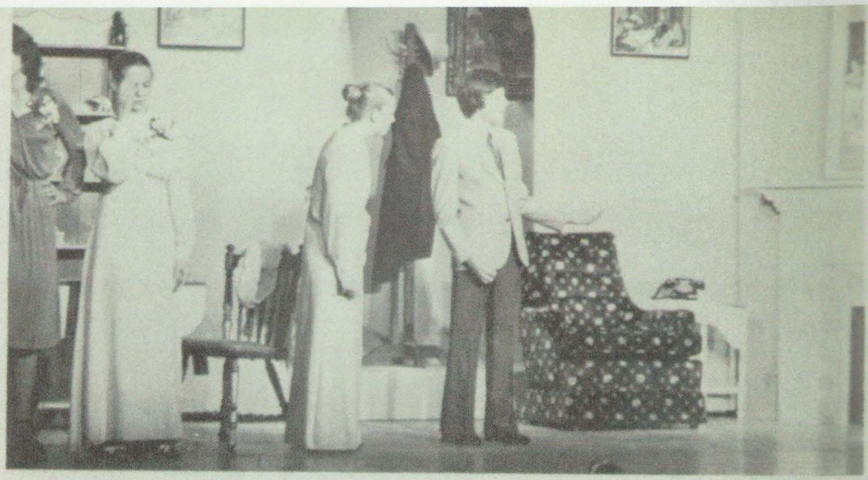
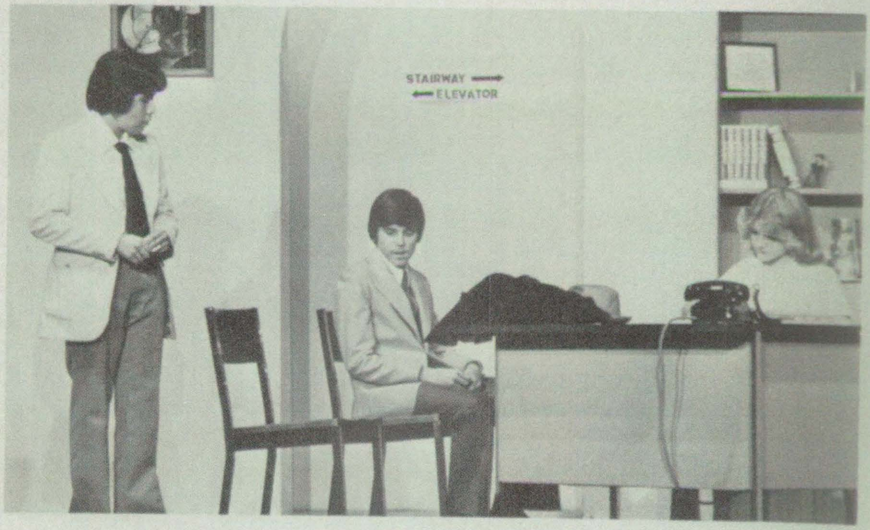
Harvey

he Great American Comedy By Mary Chase



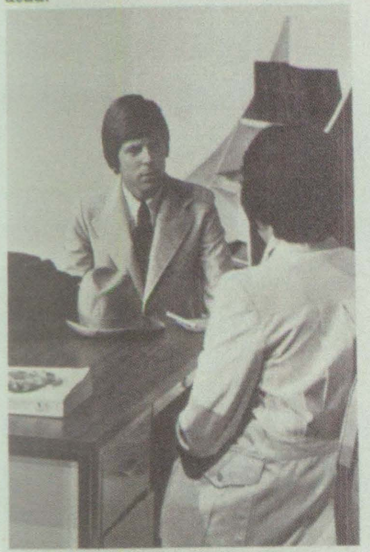
"I'd like you to meet a friend of mine. Harvey, come say hi!"

"I'm not sure but by now I think you all have been give at leats one of my cards."

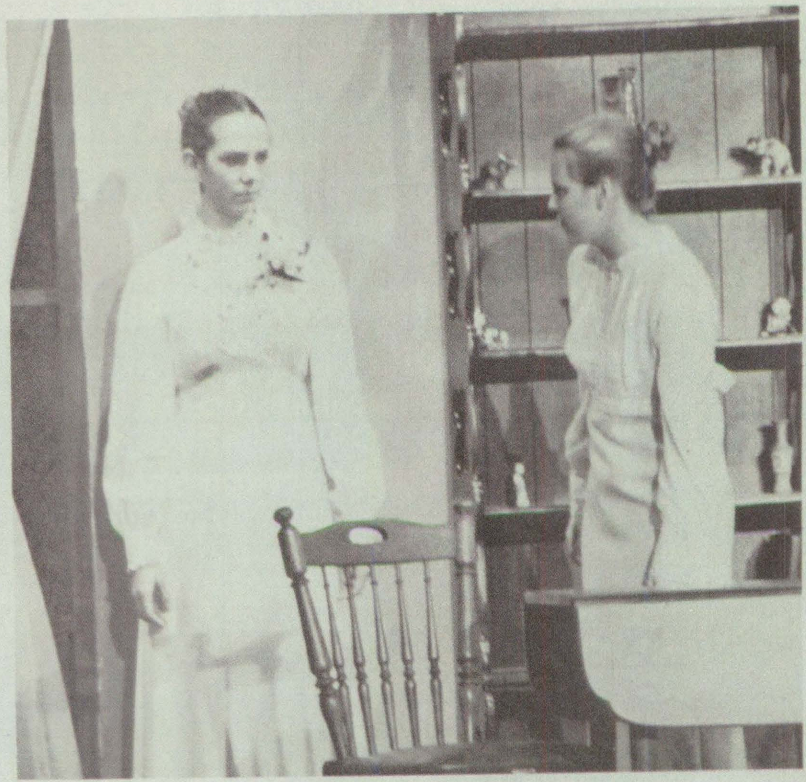


"What do you mean invisable? He's right here."

"There's nothing strange about me. I'm like my father's family — they're all dead."



"So when dod you first see the six foot tall white rabbit named Harvey?"



"How long has it been since you began to notice any pecularity in your brother's actions?"

"Harvey, I'd like you to meet Ms. Kelly. Not bad for a human, huh?"

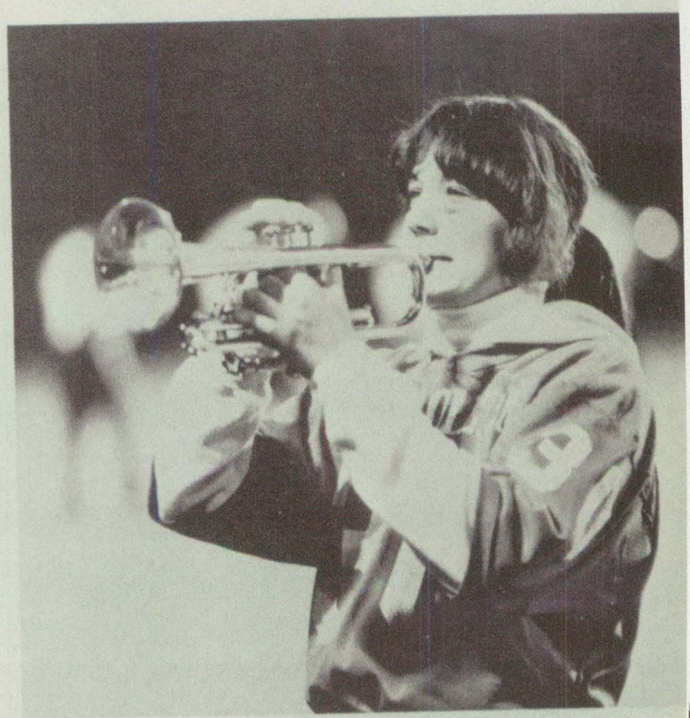
. . . And The Band Played On —

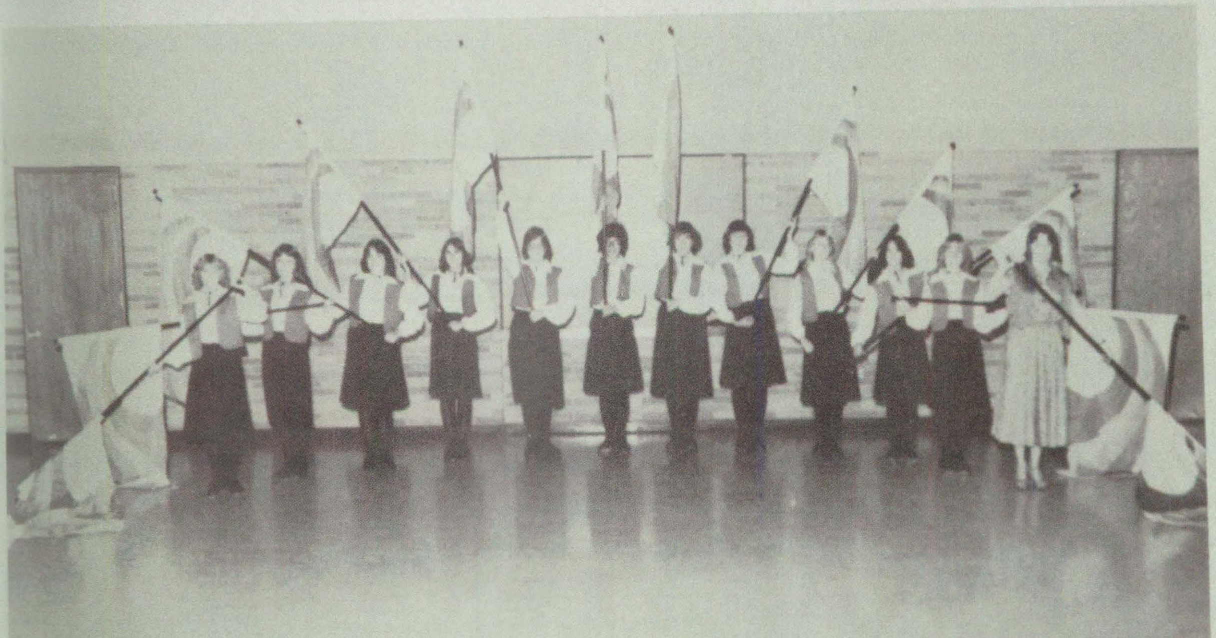
TOP: CHS Marching Band entertained the football fans at halftime of the football games but that's just the tip of the iceberg. The sixty member group practices for hours each week to perfect the routine.
ABOVE: Marching in the annual Homecoming Parade is one of the many responsibilities the band has. Junior Pud Grueber is pictured here with the drums.

Senior Kit Grandel was this year's assistant band director for Mr. Stohs' group.

The Homecoming parade just wouldn't be the same without the Cavalier Marching Band.



Sarah Quellette takes time out from the Powder Puff football game to play for the King selection.



Color Guard 1979; Lee Mohn, Cim Mount, Tracy Hartman, Gwen Maiers, Anna Del Vally, Toni Rose, Sue Henne, Becky Yeatman, Diane Marsh, Bev Mueller, Heather Ellsworth.

Spirit Involves Time

Varsity Fall Cheerleaders Kelley Berkobien, Sarah Quellette, Andi Jurik, Wendy Partlow, Rosa Perez, Teresa Jones and Eileen Haight.

RIGHT: Teresa joins the irds in an introduction to the ir.

One of the highlights of the eason was cheering for the tate championship girls basetball team at MSU's Jenison ieldhouse. At MSU Eileen and arah team up to score as Terea and Shelley Thompson, Rose ukowski and Wendy, and ose cheer.

Nice catch girls (above) as Eileen trusts the squad to cushion the landing. (below) The girls practice the dunk routine.

Mounts are an added touch to the cheers (above). The Cavs wave bye to the Royal Oak Shrine fans at MSU.

Chris - Dip - sorry so short - you owe me one.

To a really foxy chic who is super hard to understand. I wish things between us could be alot different, like the one day we got back Togeather, (laughing, Joking Around) theres only one thing wrong and you know what that is, I have to trust you, and you have to trust me, and believe me it's just as hard for me as it is for you. If you want To get back togeather it's got to be 50/50 and that would be great, but I guess you like flurting around with someone Differen all the time. I was going To ask you out Tonight, but I knew you were sick, and still I called to see If you could go out. You know as well as I do that we both love each other, and that we were always ment for each other. (so whats the deal?) I wrote something on the inside of your book, and I wrote it in anger, because if you like or love chuck head. I could easily start loving lori. But I would rather see us give it a hell of a try wouldn't you? It's up To you chris so call me tonight if your not to busy because I'll probably be sitting home. your really super in alot of ways chris and you know it. maybe thats the problem,

This is weird cus this is the same place I signed Terry's book. I think you're a nice chick, even though we've had our differences. I think we're alot alike too. Now that we're both free we'll have to look around quite a bit for all the fine dudes. We'll party alot this summer too I'm sure. I hope ya don't mind if I stop over once or twice to go swimming! Call me whenever ya feel like talking okay?
